

Five9 Essentials Workforce Management

Address your WFM needs in a growing contact center.

Five9 Essentials Workforce Management (WFM) provides a powerful workforce management solution that meets all of the essential needs of a WFM deployment. Plan, optimize, and manage with a single solution that's interactive and customizable for end users.

Ideal for the growing contact center Five9 Essentials WFM is built on the same platform as our Enterprise version, so it is easily scalable if your needs change in the future. The Essentials solution is designed to meet core WFM criteria, including staffing and scheduling, as well as proactively managing intraday activities so optimal productivity is maximized. Our feature-rich agent portal and available mobile app empower your agents and keep them engaged. Five9 Essentials WFM provides you with an effective, affordable workforce management tool that is ideally suited for contact centers up to 100 seats. Address many complex staffing issues, including:

- What if staff levels were right-sized based on demand?
- How many more agents will we need if our call volumes or handling times increase?
- How do I know if my agents are adhering to their schedules?
- How do I account for omnichannel events like chat and email in addition to call volume?
- How can I notify agents about upcoming schedule events and schedule changes?

Forecasting

Five9 Essentials WFM offers two different forecasting models, static and dynamic, to use with your historical data to provide highly accurate and relevant forecasts. Each forecast will identify the required FTEs for both single and multiple skilled agent environments to ensure future needs are met. The forecasting engine takes into account multi-skill, multi-channel, and blended environments to ensure complex staffing requirements are managed effectively and remains uncompromisingly simple.

Real-Time Adherence

Five9 Essentials WFM delivers some of the most advanced real-time adherence views and alerts in the industry to deliver greater cost savings and improved efficiency. Recognizing that agents are a part of the solution, Five9 Essentials WFM ensures that they have the tools to monitor their productivity and help improve overall efficiency.

Scheduling

Five9 Essentials WFM takes into consideration factors that impact service levels and produces optimal scheduling outcomes to determine staffing needs, availabilities, and skills required. The scheduling logic also considers break times, lunch, meetings, and training/coaching time.

Five9 Essentials WFM produces accurate and optimized schedules through flexible portals for schedulers, supervisors, and agents.

Intraday Management

Reports on the progress of the day are only a few clicks away. Schedule adjustments and edits can be easily accomplished via “drag and drop” and automatically communicated to the affected agent through either a pop-up or memo message.

WFM Agent Portal

Five9 Essentials WFM provides agents with all of the tools to manage their schedules, set preferences, view adherence stats, request time off, trade shifts, message supervisors, and even view company news updates. This engages and empowers agents, making them feel better about their role within the contact center.

Five9 Essentials WFM automates communications and processes unlike any other solution. Five9 continues to simplify scheduling and forecasting in busy, growing contact center environments. Five9 Essentials WFM adds even more value through its open design, substantially reducing the time and cost of integrating with related enterprise applications such as human resources and payroll.
